

Community, Resistance and Resilience
Community, Resistance and Resilience: Celebrating 50 Years of
The Making of the Crofting Community

Thursday 11 June

- 11.00am Jim MacPherson, 'Global Dornoch: A gentle walk through a troubling past'
- 12 noon Speakers Lunch at Burghfield
- 12.45pm Registration and Tea & Coffee at Social Club
- 1.15pm Welcome and Introduction
- 1.30pm Andrew Mackillop, 'Emigration and practices of resistance in Jim Hunter's work'
- 2.00pm Gemma Smith, 'Were the Highlands ever colonised? And other stupid questions'
- 2.30pm Tea & Coffee
- 3.00pm Iain MacKinnon, '50 years of The Making of the Crofting Community in the Gàidhealtachd: epistemic gains and losses'
- 3.30pm Mairi McFadyen and Raghnaid Sandilands, "'A Compass of Affection": Cultural Memory, Creative Practice and Convivial Futures'
- 4.00pm Tea & Coffee
- 4.30pm Jim Hunter interviewed by Elizabeth Ritchie
- 5.30pm End
- 7.00pm Dinner
- 8.00pm Fiddle tune and Buttons and Bows programme, poetry reading (Càit O'Neill McCullagh)

Friday 12 June

- 9.15am Ewen Cameron, 'James Hunter, John Prebble and the history of the Scottish Highlands'
- 9.45am Ailsa Raeburn, 'The Future of Highland Communities'
- 10.15am Tea & Coffee
- 10.45am Domhnall Uilleam Stiùbhart, "How emigration catches till all are set afloat": polycrises and epidemics of emigration during the early 1770s in the western Gàidhealtachd
- 11.15am Annie Tindley, "Neither forgotten nor forgiven": landed power in the past and present – Sutherland, a case study'
- 11.45pm David Taylor, 'The Making of a Non-Crofting Community: why the region of Badenoch never became a crofting area like the northern Highlands and islands'
- 12.15pm Lunch
- 1.15pm Film screening
- 2.30pm Tea & Coffee
- 3.00pm Col Gordon, 'Cattle and the Caribbean: the supply chains of the enslavement economy and habitat decline in the Gàidhealtachd'
- 3.30pm Juliette Desportes, 'The Making and Unmaking of Crofting: The Fictions of Eighteenth-Century Progress'
- 4.00pm Concluding remarks
- 4.15pm End